SHANGHAI, April 22.—An American naval landing party has gone ashore in Hankow and rescued three Americans, J. S. H. H. Duxbury and Captain H. H. Burdett, who were imprisoned by Trucist workers at the Szechuan installation near the Japanese concession, according to reports received here.

PEKING, April 23.—The Civil War struggle between Northern and Southern China has reached, temporarily at least, the stage of an impasse.

The offensive of both the North and Southern armies has come to a standstill along the general line of the Yangtze river, which is the Mason and Dixon line in China.

The authorized statement made to me today by General Chang Tso Lin, China's chief war lord, don't's church in San Francisco in the near future.

KRATZERS HOLD REUNION HERE

The Hotel Carquinez was the scene of a happy reunion last night when more than 60 former residents of Fresno and its environs were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kratzer. Old friendships were renewed, old memories revived, during the evening. The former valley residents, many of them now members of the Fresno club and residing in the eastbay region.

Mayor Mattie Chandler was present at the banquet and extended a message of welcome to the former Fresnoans. An address of welcome was also made by Mrs. S. (Continued on Page 8)

Woman Evangelist At 1st Christian

Rheba Crawford, the female counterpart of Billy Sunday and one of the most talked of evangelists in the world will return to the pulpit in Richmond today after an absence of three years from the public spotlight. She will speak at the morning services of the First Christian church, the topic of her sermon being "The Road to Emmaus."

Widely known throughout the United States, Miss Crawford was known as "Sunshine Crawford" in New York, where she was a Salvation Army captain.

She is young, good looking and vivacious and seems to have all the enthusiastic fervor of the old time evangelists and a lot, they didn't have.

Miss Crawford is at present engaged in writing a daily women's feature for a San Francisco newspaper, but will talk at Dr. Gortso Lin, China's chief war lord, don't's church in San Francisco in the near future.

AIMEE LOSES BAND CHOIR "ON STRIKE"

(By Universal Service)
LOS ANGELES, April 23.—As the result of a dispute between Aimee Semple McPherson, widely known evangelist and Gladys Nichols, musical director of Angelus Temple, the band and choir, totaling 125 persons, was "on strike" today.

The choir members, 83 in all, walked out last night with the band of 40 pieces. Mrs. McPherson says that Nichols was disloyal to her and had "secret ambitions." She added that a new musical organization is being rapidly formed. Nichols claims that his resignation was not forced and said that "Mrs. McPherson had been misled."

$46,000 Asked In Damage Suit

MARTINEZ, April 23.—Two damage suits filed in the Superior Court here yesterday are sought for personal injuries' compensation in sequel to an automobile crash in El Cerrito on February 19 in which Walter E. and Mrs. Dora Randall were painfully injured. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Randall are seeking judgments totaling $46,125. The suits are directed against W. J. Gillard, in whose car Mrs. Randall was a guest, and Konrad Gobel, Inc., and John Weinbrenner, an employee of the firm.

The accident was due to negligent driving of machines operated by Gillard and Weinbrenner, according to Mrs. Randall and her (Continued on page 4)

A. L. Paulsen

A. L. Paulsen, realtor, is taking his first dip in politics. His name will appear on the ballot at tomorrow's primary election. He was one of the first candidates in the field, and he has been busy every since.

Paulsen is considered one of the "live wires" of Richmond and during his nine years residence here has had every opportunity to learn the needs of the taxpayers of this city. Paulsen is also an expert on land valuations. He has hosts of friends who are aiding him in making his canvass, who predict that when the ballots are counted tomorrow night, there will be a number of pleasant surprises.

Paulsen is making an independent canvass, has no alliance with any factions in the city, and if elected, promises that he will give his best efforts towards promoting the development of the city.

They Grows He Men In Weepah Deestriect An' No Blame Joke

(By Universal Service)
WEEPAH, Nev., April 22.—There is nothing to equal a gold rush for rounding up the odd and interesting characters of the western country. They can do more stay away from a new mining excitement than the average small boy can stay away from the circus.

When the Weepah boom broke, it was not many days before these old timers began to drift in. They are still coming. Several late arrivals joined the crowd at the gold nugget last night. Among the number was a little dried up old man known as Pete the runt. A good many years ago Pete was driving mules for a freighting outfit at Mountain View, Idaho, a wild spot in those days and at the time much troubled by an outlaw known as "Mountain Red." "Eliot me and I'll get 'Mountain Red.'" was for a number of years the principal plank in the platform of candidates for the of (Continued on Page 8)

Police Threatened For Death of Hijacker

The detectives themselves were being guarded. The threat came from an unidentified man, who accused the officers of "murdering his pal."

22 Year Old Goose Holds Egg Record

(By Universal Service)
SANTA ROSA, Calif., April 23.—Mary Ann McCarthy, 22-year old goose owned by B. V. McCarthy, rancher, established a world record today when she laid her twenty-third egg since March 15. According to her owner she is the most prolific as well as the luckiest bird in seven states. Just twenty-two years ago, McCarthy said, he was living in Emeryville where the bird was being fattened for Thanksgiving dinner. He bought it and has since regarded it as a member of the family. Mary Ann has been hit twice by automobiles on the highway here but has survived these and other vicissitudes.

He pleaded guilty to a charge of disturbing the peace, made a result of his visit to the police station following a party Monday morning, with the demand that some person be arrested.

FIREMEN BALL HELD SUCCESS

A crowd of dancers estimated at over 900 packed the East Shore Park pavilion last evening when the Richmond firemen staged their eighth annual benefit ball. The affair was easily the most successful in the history of the relief fund benefits, and a great deal of credit should be given to General Chairman S. G. Davidson and the other members of the committee in charge. The event was one of the most colorful of the social season, and the dancers enjoyed every minute of it from the grand march until (Continued on Page 3)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 23.—The battle being waged against floods in the lower Mississippi valley tonight became a race against death. The lives of between 5,000 and 10,000 people are endangered by the onrushing water of the Mississippi and other thousands are facing death from hunger and exposure.

Memphis is expected to become the center of all relief work, from Cairo to New Orleans. It was announced tonight that Herbert Hoover secretary of commerce, would arrive here Monday to take charge of relief work. Hoover was generalissimo of relief for the allies in the world war and later food administrator. He is expected to build up a relief organization under the Red Cross for the Mississippi valley (Continued on Page 5)

Elephants Kill Woman On City Streets

Frightened by a mere cat, three elephants (shown above), Maude, Cutie and Tix, appearing at Newark theater, ran wild in the heart of that city's shopping district Monday, trampling aged woman to death. One actor and another onlooker were also injured. Scenes of the wildest confusion were enacted before the charging animals could be captured. Traffic was tied up, shoppers fled in all directions, police reserves were called out, and a Newark city block was the scene of a wild panic as the frightened beasts tore down the street. Efforts of trainers to stop them were vain. Police finally subjugated the animals.

WIRES TALK IN VERSATILE BILL MYSTERY FILM AT RICHMOND

A blundering "dumbbell" who happens to have a job as detective.

That's Mack Swain in "Whispering Wires." The popular actor plays the role of the comical Cassidy, who, with Arthur Housman as McCarthy, forms the team of "expert criminologists" who solve everything but the crime they're assigned to. Anita Stewart has the leading role in the Fox Films thriller, which comes to the Richmond theatre today.

"Whispering Wires" was a sensational on the stage. Kate McLaurin wrote the play from the story by Henry Leverage. Al-
Scott Welsh, as Teddy Drew, is the chief of the "criminologists" and the three of them try to solve the mystery of the whispering that comes from the wires threatening death to Mon-gomery Stockbridge, owner of a mansion that is full of trap-doors and secret passages.

Other than the detectives and Miss Stewart the cast includes Edmund Burns, Charles Gray, Otto Matieson, Maym Kelso, "Ho-
nie" Conklin, Frank Campeau, Cecile Evans and Charles Sellen.

Other features on the same program include "Watch Out," a Bobby Vernon comedy; and a Grantland Rice "Spotlight."

COALINGA—New City hall and public auditorium contemplated for construction here.

PERRIS—Several streets of the town being dragged and graded.

Patrons of The California theatre can look forward to seeing today one of the most versatile programs of variety offerings ever seen in Richmond. Containing as it does in the five individual acts all the elements that go to make up an ideal and varied bill from the initial curtain to the finale, the program is replete with big time offerings also.

Jean Barrios in "Songs and Gowns" is a New York Vaudeville star and recognized as one of America's greatest impressionists. His wardrobe alone is a delight to the eye and aside from being a great entertainer his work is interesting.

A sensational dance offering introduces the Millards a young Trio who come direct from the east with their novel and whirlwind offerings that is pleasing to the eye.

The Wyoming Trio is "Echoes of the West," a cycle of comedy and song; Frank Burt the Darling Gymnast and Gilbert and Marie Van Alst in "Looking Over the Mail," a rube comedy skit complete a great bill.

Next Sunday, the well known Victor Recording Star and K. P.
O. Broadcasting Lyrical Tenor
Maurice Gunsky will head another great program. Music lovers and radio fans should set Sunday, May 1st aside and enjoy this great artist.

"INDIAN JOHN" SLAIN IN FIGHT

MARTINEZ, April 23.—"Indian John," nomadic preacher, who left here several weeks ago after an extended stay, shot three officers and was himself slain by a bullet from a policeman's pistol in a mid rampage in San Mateo yesterday afternoon when an effort was made to eject him from the city.

The Redwood City police were warned that "Indian John" was on his way to Redwood City after attempting to kill two policemen. Deputy Sheriff Callahan, Edward Farrell and Joseph Meeks left the sheriff's office in Redwood City to apprehend the gunman.

The preacher was located four miles south of San Mateo and was approaching the officers in his covered wagon, drawn by two galloping donkeys.

"Indian John" reached down to his side and whipped out a .45 caliber revolver which was painted a fire red.

Meeks and Callahan instantly drew their own guns. Farrell also was ready and alert with his weapon.

Glowing with rage, "Indian John" fired first. His shot knocked the gun out of Callahan's hand. The next shot went into the officer's abdomen.

Farrell drew his gun and sent three bullets through the preacher's body. Meeks' gun went into action and "Indian John" jumped from the wagon, staggered to one side of the road and collapsed dead.

The preacher has been holding religious services from his wagon at several points in San Mateo county last week, and arrived in San Mateo yesterday, where he attempted to conduct services on Rose avenue.

THREE SAILORS HURT IN CRASH

Two sailors were seriously injured and another was slightly hurt in an automobile crash near Richmond late last night.

The injured: Jeffries, D. K., sailor on S-34, stationed at Mare Island; fractured skull, numerous cuts and bruises and probable internal injuries, not expected to live.

Stuckum, Pete, U. S. S. S-15 driver; cuts about head and body, possible internal injuries.

W. C. Falsing, U. S. S. S-34, cut below eye; bruises and cuts of body.

According to a report made to the police the three men in a light touring car, driven by Stuckum, were headed toward Oakland, coming from Pinole. It is reported that the three were driving at a rate of about fifty miles per hour down the Tank Farm hill.

At the bottom of the hill the car swerved across the road and scraped against a Ford.

Although the Ford was not damaged by the crash, the impact threw the three from the seat.

Passing motorists picked up the injured and brought them to the Emergency hospital where they were treated by Dr. L. St. John Reby.

WILLYS-KNIGHT WHIPPET SHOW LARGE SALES

Since the price reduction was announced a short time ago by Willys-Overland, retail sales of the Whippets in less than two score important cities of the country on February 15th had reached a total of $6,735,000; this figure combined with the sale of Willys-Knight sizes in the same cities registers a total volume retail sales for both lines of $10,121,000, according to J. P. Strom, local Willys-Knight dealer here.

The price reduction coming simultaneously with the introduction of the new cars has brought a response on the part of the motor car buyers which has resulted in a record business for the Toledo manufacturer, one that indicates that 1927 will see Willys-Overland establishing a new high mark for sales and production.

The largest sales volume in most of the cities following the annual automobile shows when the public was given its first opportunity of viewing the 1927 line of Whippets, Whippet Sixes and Whippet-Knights merely "marked time" awaiting the formal presentation of the new models.

Willys-Overland officials cite the unusual retail sales volume which followed the automobile shows as evidence of the sweeping popularity of the 1927 Whippet.

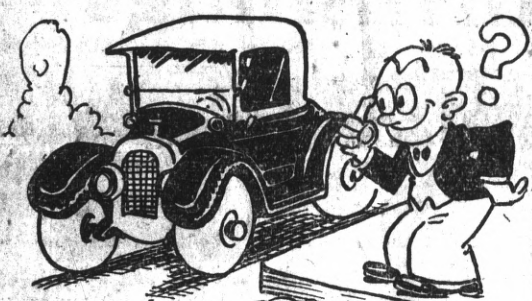

pets and Willys-Knights with the motoring public.

Recent sales of Whippets and Willys-Knights in New York City took leading honors in the first month's sales up to February 15, reaching a total of $1,098,000. Retail sales recorded in other branch cities placed them in the following order: Philadelphia, Toledo, Kansas City, Los Angeles, Seattle, Atlanta, Chicago, Detroit, Dallas, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, St. Paul.

Company officials cite the unusual trend of buyers toward the Willys-Overland products since the initial showing of the 1927 line, declaring that the completion of the Willys-Overland four-year engineering program is now reaping its results with sales figures in all parts of the country shattering all former records.

The trend to Willys-Overland products is laid to the distinctive engineering features which characterize the 1927 models. These include four-wheel brakes on all chassis; low swing bodies to provide smooth riding and roadability; sturdy construction throughout; powerful and speedy motors embracing the best engineering ideas of two continents; smart, flashing lines; roomy interiors; rich appointments; fuel and oil economy; freedom from vibration and road shock; and a general performance which strikes a new note of achievement in the motor field.

Four Speed Transmissions Take Attention Of Motor Car Firms

By RAY PRIEST
(By Universal Service)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 23.—Four speed transmissions are occupying the attention of the experimental division of many of the motor car factories.

One manufacturer already has a car in production employing an eight cylinder motor and a fourth forward speed.

In a test run from Detroit to this city, a distance on the speedometer of 309.2 miles, this eight cylinder powered car showed an average gas consumption of 14.4 miles per gallon.

This run last week was made by G. Clark Mather, chief engineer of the Paige Detroit Motor company builders of the new four speed eight. Mather also had an experimental driver from the factory with an identically similar car but equipped with the conventional three speed transmission. The three speed eight cylinder Paige showed a gas consumption for the same run of 11.13 miles per gallon. This was a saving in gasoline alone of 26.1 per cent.

The two cars, identical in chassis and body, except for the transmissions, and each carrying two passengers and a driver made the run from Detroit to Indianapolis in seven hours and fifteen minutes.

The average speed was 42.48 miles per hour. No attempt was made to establish a speed record, the test being only to prove to the satisfaction of the Paige engineering department that the four speed car was the most economical.

Detroit newspapermen, including the writer, went along on the trip to check the gasoline consumption. Carburetors on the two cars were changed at the 150 mile mark on the speedometer in order that no variation might develop through one carburetor functioning more efficiently than the other. The riders changed cars from time to time and the effect of high speed was very noticeable in the three speed cars. But in the four speed car due to the engine revolutions being much slower than the three speed car, the effect was of floating along.

Vibration in the four speed car was "not" noticeable. The transmission employed in the new Paige eight is built by the Warner Gear Manufacturing company, Muncie, Ind.

The need for the four speed transmissions has yet to be found for speed but it certainly showed in this test a great economical factor. Besides the saving in gasoline, the wear and tear on the engine is cut down more than 25 percent. The three speed car traveling at a pace between 50 and 60 miles an hour must employ well over 3000 revolutions per minute of the motor to drive it at that speed.

With the four speed transmission the motor revolutions are cut down to less than 2500 per minute. This means that the piston travel for the amount of miles covered is approximately a sixth less than in the case of the three speed car. In the earlier days of four speed transmissions experimental work an attempt was made by the engineers to add an over speed of the conventional spur gear type to gain the fourth speed. In the case of the new Warner transmission it has been found that the fourth speed is best when employed to drive the car direct from the motor. This means that there are three speeds below the motor speed which gives greater acceleration or power according to the gradually reducing gear ratio at the rear axle. Ten years ago most automobiles were geared in the neighborhood of 3.5 to 1. Those cars going to hilly districts were provided at the factories with lower gear ratios to give greater power with less speed.

Paige recommends the use of the fourth speed at any car speed from ten miles per hour to maximum. The company states that it is a mistaken idea that the fourth speed be only used when going extremely fast on flat roads. At the present time there are more than six large companies working on the development of four speed transmissions of one type or another. Engineers readily concede that if the fourth speed can be made as quiet as the third, it is obvious that a step forward to employ it in motor car production especially on the finer cars. Its use on medium priced cars seems to be quite a long way off as the present four speed transmission now in production costs the Paige company two and one half times more than the three speed that would be used on the same size car.

Broadway Stamping Ground for Hicks? Well Yes, and Yet---

NEW YORK, April 23.—"New York is the most provincial town on earth—Broadway is the biggest dick street in the country!"

How many hundred times have you heard that statement in part or whole and agreed with it enthusiastically? Even the statistics at first glance appear to prove it. They show that the transient population in a specified week in this city may be greater than the residential population. They tend to show that the Metropolitan public are more easily misled, more readily deceived than the people of the cross road hamlets.

So why is it that plays which achieve high fame on the main roads north, south and west and among the trails in the sticks frequently fail to meet Broadway approval? Why is it that productions which break records in Philadelphia, Boston, Detroit, Chicago and other big cities crumple on the first New York night?

I don't know, but I'd like to know. This season has been several of them—so many indeed as to revive the old aphorism to the effect that New York hates what Chicago loves, that Broadway goes on what San Francisco swallows with avidity. The converse is not true, for with few exceptions, the plays that Broadway accepts are hits throughout the land, which somehow seems unfair!

One of the most remarkable of this season's productions was "Castles in the Air" a musical comedy that was almost an opera, with a popular star, Vivienne Segal; a first-grade baritone, J. Harold Murray, a comedian of merit, Bernard Granville; a high-speed chorus, trained by John Boyle, set in splendid scenery, sprinkled in ecstasy over it for a year. New York thought it pretty good, and it finally died in Le Blang's hands, too far gone to endure even a revival.

Now, Murray is one of the hits in Ziegfeld's "Rio Rita"; and Miss Segal is winning applause in "The Desert Song", while Bunny Granville is to be featured in a new musical comedy. The aptly-named "Castles in the Air" dissolved into its elements, all or most of which were absorbed in other productions and presumably have contributed to some of the season's successes. Yet "Castles in the Air" was rated even by capricious critics as a good show for Broadway—a trifle heavy, perhaps, but good. Why then did New York pass it up, first at bargain prices then at cut rates?

"Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" must be credited with success, although six months was its limit in this town. At first the Loos-Emerson comedy went with a bang but after the first rush attendance tapered off rapidly, and the end came months sooner than was planned. Yet Chicago clapped this play to its bosom before it reached New York and it almost required the militia's interference to permit it to come east.

So pronounced does Broadway's prejudice seem against shows which have scored on the road that George Tyler last season refused to bring in his all-star company with "The Rivals" and "Close Quarters." He made a fortune outside New York and asserted that he would not risk

Broadway's verdict. Yet, when he received "Trelawny" here, he set a record for success—was it because the Pinero comedy opened "cold" without breaking in on the road?

Whatever the cause the condition exists and the man who can cure it will be a true benefactor of the drama!

De Pinedo Feted by Washington Society as Party Season Opens

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, April 23.—This certainly has been party week in Washington. With the more or less quiet Lenten season over and the much duller summer period just around the corner, folks tried to outdo one another in giving dinners, balls, and things.
The week was a sort of last grasp of a distinctly die-hard season, a season all too short on account of the little season of congress.
What gave it its greatest spurt of enthusiasm, though, was the presence in our midst of a galaxy—no other word will describe it—of distinguished foreign visitors.
Commander Francesco De Pinedo, the Italian aviator who is on a flight to four continents, descended upon U. S. Ramsey Macdonald, the former premier of Great Britain and his daughter were here for two days, and the President of Cuba with an extensive suite came yesterday.
These famous ones made the embassies of their countries their "homes" and many were the parties therein. The diplomatic gentlemen and their ladies really must be worn to the proverbial rag by this time.
You see, they all had to go to all the parties. That's how it is in the complicated social scheme here. Silk hats haven't had such that will be comparable with that which functioned in war-torn Europe.

FLOOD VICTIMS SWEEPED AWAY AS RAGING WATERS ENGULF LEVEES

Greenville, Miss., was the center of the disaster zone today. Steamboats dropped along the crumbling levees picking up hundreds of refugees. They were taken to Memphis, Vicksburg and Helena.
Hundreds of refugees are still marooned in buildings that stand above the water in Greenville. There were approximately 10,000 refugees concentrated at three places in addition to the town's 12,000 population. They are without fresh water, heat and light. Steamboats are moving the population to Vicksburg as rapidly as possible.
The steamer Cincinnati on which Mayor William Hale Thompson and a party of river improvement advocates are making a trip to New Orleans picked up several hundred refugees from Greenville and brought them to Vicksburg. Vicksburg is surrounded by water but the city is built on a high bluff and will not be flooded.
Two hundred refugees were removed from the Pythian building in Greenville just before it collapsed today.
Memphis was ready tonight to meet the crest of the flood which is due here during the night or tomorrow. The river rose slowly today. It is expected to come to a stand here tomorrow or Monday and then recede very slowly.
Levees below Greenville were reported holding tonight. Breaks in the levees just above Greenville and at New Madrid, Mo., several days ago tended to reduce the amount of water flowing down the main channel of the Mississippi. Millions of cubic feet of water have spread out over the lowlands of the St. Francis valley and the Yazoo delta. This will eventually find its way back into the Mississippi but the movement is slowed up and New Orleans and cities to the south will benefit.
The known dead reached 61 today with reports of three drowning near Cairo. The flood situation at Cairo was slightly improved. The water came to a stand twenty-four hours ago at that point and levees are holding.
It is feared scores of lives have been lost on which no record has been made.
Railroads through important Mississippi cities have been forced to place an embargo on freight. Only most urgent supplies are being sent through over water covered tracks. Steamboats will carry supplies to refugee camps where rail communication has been lost. Forrest City, Ark., in the heart of the St. Francis valley flood, reported today that refugees were still coming in there.
Typhoid vaccine was being administered in all camps and physicians were guarding against an outbreak of pneumonia. The sun shone today over most of the valley. This was favorable, although the temperature was low.
"Fifty-box cars, filled with refugees from various points along the river arrived in Vicksburg today, and spent the night on the tracks and 12 more coaches are due to arrive with refugees. Many refugees are sleeping on hay because no cots or blankets are available.
"Moxley, at Rally Fork, is rapidly being inundated and here, as in other places, the Red Cross is faced with the heart-rending problem of trying to get the people to leave their homes before it is too late. Their love of home seems to be almost stronger than their fear of the flood."

But the older ones formed the great backbone of the opera audiences, not for nearly a score of years has Mr. Gatti's organization condensed to function in the national capital. Heretofore, we had to make trips to New York to hear Gatti, Ponselle, Galli-Curci, Martinelli and the rest.
The Secretary of the Navy William, has the slyph, a pretty yacht and the scene of many an interesting party. Then there is Colonel Robert M. Thompson's houseboat, the Everglades, and the cute little craft owned by John Hays Hammond, which he put in running order for the season this week.
There used to be two other notable boats moored in the basin that now, alas, are missing. One belonged to Senator Jesse H. Metcalf or Rhode Island, who is not here this summer; and the other was former Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen's.
The new Jersey Senator used to camp on his houseboat when hot nights caught Congress still in session. It was such a relief to get a breath of fresh air, cool and clean, after so much hot air in the Senate chamber, he always said.

Richmond Prepares to Attend Opening Of Carquinez Span

Richmond is making extensive preparations to celebrate the dedication and opening of Carquinez bridge on Saturday, May 21st.
Under the sponsorship of the special committee from the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, every motor car owner in the city is asked to join the auto caravan to the bridge on the morning of the dedication.
Audrey Wilson, chairman of this special committee, also requests that all those who will participate in Richmond's motor caravan register their names and addresses and telephone numbers with the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, Richmond 2470.
More than 1,000 Richmond automobiles are expected to comprise this caravan which will be headed by Mayor Mattie Chandler, members of the city council; President P. M. Sanford and directors of the Chamber of Commerce; City Manager James A. McVittie, and other public officials.
Each motor car in the caravan will be provided with a windshield pennant issued by the California Automobile association as the official insignia of the big day.
The Richmond caravan committee of the Chamber of Commerce is also considering getting out a special Richmond pennant for the occasion, that Richmond may get a great deal of advertising before the 50,000 motorists expected at the dedication ceremonies.
Richmond on the direct route to the great Carquinez bridge—the connecting link in a continuous overland highway from Canada to Mexico—will derive tremendous benefits from the opening of the bridge.
For this reason, the Chamber of Commerce is anxious to get out the largest assembly of motor cars ever arranged in Richmond.
From the enthusiasm among local motorists this appeal will be answered.
The Chamber of Commerce bridge celebration caravan committee, besides Chairman Wilson, includes J. P. Strong, John A. Miller, R. T. Osborn, and Frank Scholes.
Meanwhile, the parking problem has been satisfactorily solved and every motorist attending the ceremonies is assured of sufficient parking space.
The parking arrangements are in the hands of a special committee of the Carquinez Bridge celebration committee, headed by S. J. McKnight of Vallejo.

One thousand acres on the Vallejo side is available for parking purposes. The cooperation and active assistance of the California State Automobile association, the state traffic department, the Boy Scouts and the sheriff's offices of Contra Costa and Solano counties, have been pledged.
The vast acreage will be divided into sections and each section will be numbered. The cars will be directed into the respective sections and the drivers given proper tags. No cars will be permitted to move about once they are parked. This is essential to prevent congestion.
Meanwhile the work of completing the highway approaches both from the North and South to Carquinez Bridge is progressing rapidly.
Twelve giant steamshovels, a fleet of "Caterpillars" and a score of motor trucks in addition to the hand crews are laboring night and day to complete the necessary work.
The flooring of the bridge itself, 30 feet wide and 7-inches deep of reinforced concrete is more than 70 per cent complete while the grading on the approaches is 85 per cent complete.
Altogether Richmond motorists may look forward to traveling wide, well paved highways direct to the great Carquinez bridge on opening day, May 21st, which falls on Saturday.
The American Toll Bridge, through President Oscar H. Klatt, announces that from 5 o'clock in the morning until midnight of May 21st all motorists may pass over the bridge without paying toll.
"We welcome the motorists of California and America to visit Carquinez Bridge on May 21st," said Klatt. "We are lifting the toll charge for this great day, recognizing it as one of the greatest days in the history of California highway construction. The Carquinez bridge breaks forever the water barrier that has separated the rich and picturesque northern counties from Central and Southern California. It marks an epoch in bridge building as well as in transportation by motor car. Carquinez bridge is the world's greatest highway structure."

STANFORD WINS FROM TROJANS IN DUAL MEET

(By Universal Service)
STANFORD STADIUM, Palo Alto, April 23.—The great Cardinal track team coached by Dick Templeton, one of the greatest ever to represent Stanford University, was on the way to a National championship tonight.

Defeating another great track and field aggregation, that of University of Southern California, in a hard fought meet this afternoon, Stanford looms as the best in the land.

The score was 75 for Stanford and 56 for U. S. C.

Two new Pacific Coast Intercollegiate records were set. In the broad jump the distance of 24 feet, 7 inches, exceeded previous coast marks and in the relay Stanfords time of three minutes 18 and 4-5 seconds bettered previous coast marks.

The final event—the relay—was one of the most thrilling ever witnessed here. Spencer doing the last lap for Stanford cut down a lead of almost twenty feet against H. Smith of U. S. C. until the last lap U. S. C. had led all the way around.

TEAMS CLASH IN THREE C LEAGUE GAMES

Sunday baseball will be revived here today when the first Richmond Sannies clash with the Concord nine in a Three C League game to be played at the First street ball park.

Opening day ceremonies have been arranged by Manager Phil Jones of the Richmond team to open up the season here. Chief of Police Dan Cox and Fire Chief W. P. Cooper have been invited to participate as honorary batters to start the game.

In the Richmond-Concord game local fans will be treated to a contest between two evenly-matched teams. Concord, last year's Three C league champions, are bringing a strong assemblage of players here and expect to send Jones' aggregation down to their first defeat of the season.

Bitter rivalry exists between the two clubs, the two games played last year having been nip and tuck contests, Concord winning 13-12 and 2-1.

Frank Nemith, a product of the local sandlots, is slated to take the mound for the Concord team today. Nemith has a world of stuff and is hard to beat when he is right. His lack of control is his chief weakness.

Al Kyte, one of the classiest first sackers in bush baseball, will guard the initial sack for the invaders. Kyte and Surgen, the giant Richmond first baseman, promise to give the fans a rare exhibition around first.

Manager Phil Jones has lined up what he firmly believes is one of the strongest bush teams ever organized here. In Roland Roberts and "Dutch" Kogler he has two pitchers who have played organized baseball, while McNulty, local catcher, has also played league ball.

Surgen at first base is one of the outstanding players on either team. Tipping the scales at 245 pounds, fairly fast around first and a hard hitter, he should make his presence felt by his old teammates today.

Pat O'Rourke, at second, Pete Daley, at short, and Ernie Barbieri at third round out the Sannies' infield. All are good ball players, as are Greathouse, Bernadou and Biggs in the outfield.

"Dutch" Kogler is expected to start on the hilltop in the opener today. Kogler, a Standard Oil league moundsman, is a curve ball pitcher and exceedingly hard to beat. Jones may decide to start Roberts, however.

The game will start at 2:30 o'clock and will be umpired by Jack Elwood of Oakland.

The lineups follow:
Concord—Drolette, c; Nemith, p; Kyte, 1b; Jenks, 2b; Fisher, 3b; Gamozi, ss; Sheehan, lf; Gutteron, cf; Northcut, rf.
Richmond—McNulty, Moss, c; Roberts, Kogler, p; Surgen, 1b; O'Rourke, 2b; Barbieri, 3b; Daley, ss; Greathouse, lf; Bernadou, cf; Biggs, rf.

Dempsey Asked for Definite Statement on Comeback Plans

NEW YORK, April 22.—Jack Dempsey, once the big hook and cye man—a hook to the jaw and an eye to business—must declare himself on the heavyweight situation within a period of two weeks or suffer the possible consequence of being read out of the party, according to the views of Billy Gibson, freely aired today.

William didn't think Dempsey was doing right by our Nell and said as much or even more. Like an old fashioned father of an old fashioned girl, he wants to know whether Jack's intentions are strictly honorable, so to speak.

"Dempsey must know, by this time, whether he can fight or not," quoth Gib in a few, well chosen words, not in excess of ten thousand. "Why doesn't he declare himself, one way or the other? I'm beginning to suspect that he doesn't intend to try a comeback."

"Why, do you know that Rickard must have spent $500 in telegrams and long distance calls to Dempsey since the first of this year? I don't blame him. He has to know soon what his line-up of fighters is going to be and make his plans accordingly. If Paolino can't fight Delaney, then it must be Dempsey or the winner of the Sharkey-Maloney fight, but those things can't be done over night."

"They are big fights and have to be prepared for months in advance. The way I see it, Dempsey doesn't come out in the clear in a couple of weeks. Rickard simply will have to forget him."

As far as that crack goes, the writer suspects that it may be a case of forgive, but never forget. They need Dempsey for that $1,800,000 harvest they expect to reap this fall. However, William professes to think otherwise. He says heavyweight championship fights have become like the world series; everyone goes no matter who is in there. This fortunately, is one of those theories that you believe at your own risk.

Anyhow, Rickard himself will reach town before the passing of another day and perhaps he will have something to add to the general hilarity, besides the installment of $100,000 he owes Tunney. He will decide, among other things, whether the Madison Square Garden Corporation will go to court about the boxing commission's edict on the Paolino-Delaney fight and, if he does, the bet is right on the line that Dempsey is all washed up. Rickard would have little use for Delaney, except in a light heavyweight title fight, if Dempsey and Paolino were ready to go.

The impression here is that a Dempsey representative has seen Rickard in the south during the promoter's vacation. A reasonable line on what was said, if anything, may be gained by Rickard's action or inaction on the Paolino-Delaney situation upon his return.

Meantime, the Sharkey-Maloney matter has been clarified to some extent by the withdrawal of Tom Goodwin, Boston promoter, from the scene. His claim on Maloney apparently was squared yesterday, leaving Walter Taylor, Cleveland man, as the main impediment confronting the May 19 date.

However, this is another situation that is important or otherwise, according to Dempsey's whim. If Jack has assured Rickard of his return to the ring this summer, the promoter will not be greatly concerned about anything or anybody.

Dougall Nine To Play Today

Dougall Hardware Co., otherwise known as the "Intransigent" will play the fast Cherokee Tribe of Redmen in a baseball contest at 10 a. m. Today the Dougalls have broken even in their schedule of contests. They hold wins over the Berkeley Mohawks, the Pabco club. Defeats have come in their games with the Santa Fe and the Richmond Firemen. Two contests ended in the scores after 26 innings of play.

Manager Archie Kimball will send either Jack Pinto or Ernie Paulsen to the mound. Pinto is a mound artist with a wide assortment of deceptive curves while Paulsen tosses easy teasers to the batters. Both pitchers have yet to lose a contest for the Dougalls.

The Cherokee nine are considered one of the best bush teams in the Eastbay and if Manager Kimball's cohorts can take the Redmen into camp it will be a task well done.

This morning's lineup for the Dougalls: C. Pinto, 2b; Glum, cf; Medo, rf; McCoy, lf; J. Pinto or Paulsen, pitcher; Hirth, 3b; Williams ss; Swenson, c. Baldwin 1b.

MORE THAN 30 DOCTORS RHEUMATISM QUICKLY RELIEVED

Oakland, Cal.
April 16, 1926.
During the past eight months I suffered from rheumatism in my hands and legs. Although I tried various remedies and doctors, I obtained no results.

I had also suffered from colitis and kidney troubles for eighteen years and had been treated by more than thirty doctors in Seattle and Oakland. Most of the medicine that they gave me had a bad effect on these organs, and I did not improve in any way.

At last, however, I found most wonderful relief in the FONG WANG HERB TREATMENT. I came to Fong Wang to take the tea for rheumatism but not only has the rheumatism gone, but my kidneys and intestines are in fine condition and I am free at last from pain.

Social And Service Clubs Unite To Observe U. S. Forest Week

With ministers of Richmond announcing the observance of American Forest Week from their pulpits today, Richmond's formal participation in this event set aside by President Calvin Coolidge will be formally inaugurated.

With characteristic enthusiasm, Richmond's service clubs have joined hands with the civic affairs committee, C. C. Kratzer, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce, which is taking the lead in arousing interest in American Forest Week, which starts today, April 24 and closes Saturday April 30.

Governor C. C. Young heads the California committee which comprises civic and community leaders of the state.

The Lions club at its meeting at the New Hotel Carquinez on Tuesday will have a ten-minute speaker, provided by W. C. Dobler, past commander of the American Legion here, and a member of the civic affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce which has American Forest Week program in charge.

And on Wednesday, the Kiwanis have invited the committee to provide a speaker on the significance and importance of American Forest Week.

The Rotary club on Friday is also expected to call for a speaker.

Either Tuesday or Wednesday morning a speaker will talk to the combined student body of the Richmond Union high school. Teachers in the grade schools and in the Roosevelt Junior high school have been asked to give a five-minute talk on American Forest Week that Young America may get an intimate view of the forests and the purpose of American Forest Week to keep these natural parks intact, safe from destruction by fire, and restore those forest areas devastated in the years gone by.

"We in California, are particularly interested in American Forest Week," said President P. M. Sanford of the Chamber of Commerce today. "California's forest area is approximately twenty million acres, perhaps the largest forest area in any state in the union. It is vital that this virgin timber shall be protected against fire. Forests not only furnish lumber for our buildings and equipment for our orchardists, but are a protection against the erosion of nature, conserve our water supply and offer natural parks and outdoor playgrounds for our vacation periods. Forests are of potential friends of the farmer. They are essential to our great agricultural area and today in the foothills of the Sierras farmers are going into the business of raising timber along with their fruits. California forests represent a tremendous economic factor in the life of this state. Let's preserve them. Let's build them."

C. C. Kratzer is chairman of the civic affairs committee of the chamber. Assisting him are J. C. Hitchcock, W. C. Dobler, A. L. Paulsen, R. T. Osborn, Nora Ashfield, J. A. Riha, Nora McNeill and Wallace Snelgrove.

The outstanding event of American Forest Week in Richmond will be a motion picture and talk on forests presented as a special feature at the entertainment for the benefit of the Richmond Scholarship fund, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association and to be held in the Roosevelt school auditorium, Friday night, April 29, in charge.

At Richmond Phil Jones' Samuels will entertain the Concord nine to open up the season there. The Concord outfit, which won the championship last year, will be out to make up for last week's defeat at the hands of Antioch.

The Pittsburg and Antioch clubs will tangle at Antioch for the league leadership. Both teams won their opening games last week.

At Martinez the county seaters will be hosts to the Kuhnards of Oakland.

office of sheriff.

Sheriffs came and went, but "Mountain Red" stayed on. A warrant issued for the outlaw's arrest remained unserved.

One day Pete, the little teamster, sauntered into the Sheriff's office.

"Sheriff," he drawled, "Mountain Red" is in town. I understand you have a warrant for the ornery cuss' arrest."

The sheriff nodded. "Wal, why don't ye go and serve it?" without waiting for a reply, Pete went on, "if ye afeared, deputize me and I'll bring him in."

Pete was duly deputized. Another job for the undertaker thought the sheriff, as Pete disappeared.

In about an hour Pete came panting into the sheriff's office dragging the dead form of Mountain Red by the heels. "Thar's yer man," he puffed, tossing his greasy cap on the floor.

"How did you ever serve that warrant and come through alive?" asked the astonished sheriff. "Easy nuff," grinned Pete. "I shot fast and read their warrant afterwards."

Firemen Labor To Save Life Of Child

Herbert Brown, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Brown, Twenty-fourth street and Rheem avenue died early last night despite heroic efforts of local firemen to save the child. The boy had been ill with spinal meningitis for a week and last night the crisis came.

The attending physician called the fire department and Fire Chief W. P. Cooper, Assistant Chief J. J. Barry and Hoseman Percy Mortensen left the firemen's dance at East Shore park and went to the station house where they took a pulmotor and rushed to the boy's bedside.

Here for an hour they worked over the lad and gave up the battle after it was plain that there was not a spark of life left. Deceased is survived by his parents, twin brother Phillip and a sister, Patty, aged four. Funeral arrangements are pending.

and the dictator of the North. There is not likely to be a resumption of important military operations for some weeks, he thinks. What the marshal did not say, but what is a fact, is that the financial exhaustion of both the revolutionaries and the north has reached the point where it forced something like a temporary truce.

In addition a threatening situation has developed in Mongolia and Northern Manchuria, where the Russians are alleged to be most active in endeavoring to stir up an uprising on a large scale, forcing Chang Tso Lin to hold some of his best troops there and preventing him from bringing them down to renew the drive against the south.

"On our side," he said, "the offensive has come to a standstill because we need time to reorganize, consolidate and re-group. The other side is condemned to inactivity by split ranks, the outcome of which we are watching closely. The North is not making war against the South, for both are China, but against groups misled and dominated by foreigners."

The Marshal's opinion is that if he had the material, and the necessary funds to finance the mobilization of available soldiers on a large scale, he could successfully end the struggle many months earlier. He said:

"If, as the result of the split of the Southerners, the Civil War can be ended without further hostilities, we shall be most glad."

Chang Tso Lin admitted that he was ready to treat with the South under certain conditions, but actual negotiations are not on. "If Chiang Kai Shek can convince us that he has definitely and clearly broken with the radical element at Honkow, and has thrown off the influence of the Russians, we are ready to talk, but unless he can establish that, we cannot talk to him," interposed General Yang, who is the Ludendorff of the war lords, and who possesses all the political acumen and cleverness that Von Hindenburg's famous associate lacked. General Yang is the product of the Japanese war academy. Elucidating the marshal's terse remarks, he pointed out that Chang Tso Lin was opposed to foreign intervention, and believes that pacification should be done by the North. With proper moral and material support, it would achieve better results at a fraction of the cost the foreign powers spend.

"The South has no monopoly of the spirit of Nationalism and patriotism," he said, "and has no right to call itself the Nationalist government, rather the Nationalist, for it is the only government in China dominated by foreigners. We don't want a foreign government in China, that is why the North is warring against it."

Chang Tso Lin insists that the North is endeavoring to be progressive and not Radical, and wants the co-operation of the foreign powers in adjusting unequal treaties and unjust privileges. He declares that it is untrue that the Chinese are ungrateful or unappreciative of the vast American educational, missionary and medical work. He regretted the American evacuation scare, which had a bad moral effect on the Chinese.

Asked if Peking was safe for foreigners, he said, significantly, "so long as we are here, foreigners are safe in the North. Should circumstances make necessary for withdrawal, I cannot say if some one else will take better care of the foreigners."

Japan's critical financial condition threw its shadow on China today. There were runs on banks in several cities, especially on foreign banks in Peking, where the natives, demanding redemption of notes, carried off silver in huge racks.

HONOLULU, T. H. April 23.—Strengthened in her grief by the belief that the death of her husband in the Nanking incident was not in vain, Mrs. J. E. Williams, widow of the vice president of Nanking University, who was slain by Chinese arrived here tonight, one of 99 refugees from China on board the liner Tenyo Haru.

"Possibly my husband's death was not in vain," she said, "for it awoke the nationalists to the danger of the communist element in their ranks and brought to a head the issues between the two branches of the party."

"I know that if Dr. Williams had been asked to give up his life he would not have faltered. He had worked there twenty years and was one of the warmest friends the Chinese ever had."

"With his bible in hand he left our house that morning only to be stopped by Communist soldiers who robbed him of his watch and killed him. The rest of us owe our lives to the loyalty of our Chinese friends who gave us shoes, clothing and money in order that we might escape."

The refugees highly praised United States Consul Davis for his handling of the Nanking situation.
